Brief Statement of Mennonite Doctrine

This is a summary statement based on the confession of faith adopted by Mennonite General Conference in 1963. For a fuller statement see the Mennonite Confession of Faith. (Herald Press, paper, $.75)

1. We believe in one God eternally existing as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

2. We believe that God has revealed himself in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, the inspired Word of God, and supremely in his Son, the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. We believe that in the beginning God created all things by His Son. He made man in the divine image, with free will, moral character, and a spiritual nature.

4. We believe that man fell into sin, bringing depravity and death upon the race; that as sinner, man is self-centered and self-willed, unwilling and unable to break with sin.

5. We believe that there is one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus, who died to redeem us from sin and arose for our justification.

6. We believe that salvation is by grace through faith in Christ, a free gift bestowed by God on those who repent and believe.

7. We believe that the Holy Spirit convicts of sin, effects the new birth, gives guidance in life, empowers for service, and enables perseverance in faith and holiness.

8. We believe that the church is the body of Christ, the brotherhood of the redeemed, a disciplined people obedient to the Word of God, and a fellowship of love, intercession, and healing.

9. We believe that Christ commissioned the church to go into all the world, making disciples of all the nations, and ministering to every human need.

10. We believe it is the will of God that there should be ministers to teach the Word, to serve as leaders, to administer the ordinances, to lead the church in the exercise of discipline, and to serve as pastors and teachers.

11. We believe that those who repent ar believe should be baptized with water as symbol of baptism with the Spirit, cleansir from sin, and commitment to Christ.

12. We believe that the church should obsen the communion of the Lord's Supper as symbol of his broken body and shed blood, ar of the fellowship of his church, until his return

13. We believe in the washing of the saint feet as a symbol of brotherhood, cleansing, ar service, and in giving the right hand of fellov ship and the holy kiss as symbols of Christia love.

14. We believe that God has establishe unique roles for man and woman, symbolize by man's bared head in praying and prophes ing, and by womans' veiled head.

15. We believe that Christian marriage intended by God to be the union of one ma and one woman for life, and that Christiar shall marry only in the Lord.

16. We believe that Christians are not to b conformed to the world, but should seek conform to Christ in every area of life.

17. We believe that Christians are to be ope and transparent in life, ever speaking the trut and employing no oaths.

18. We believe that it is the will of God f Christians to refrain from force and violence human relations and to show Christian love all men.

19. We believe that the state is ordained God to maintain order in society, and th Christians should honor rulers, be subject authorities, witness to the state, and pray f governments.

20. We believe that at death the unsaved ent into everlasting punishment and the saved in conscious bliss with Christ, who is comir again, and will raise the dead, sit in judgmer and bring in God's everlasting kingdom.

Foreword

We are pleased to present to you the 1985 Mennonite Yearbook, the organizational statistical record of the Mennonite Church (MC) in North America. This volume reflects the of the church as it is found in its congregational, area, district, conference, state/provin continental, and worldwide expressions.

In 1985 we celebrate the 300th year of the 1685 edition of the Martyrs Mirror. Caroly Wenger, director of the Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society, reviews its history and h us to see its place in the life of the church today. Myron Augsburger, moderator of the M nonite Church General Assembly, in the article "The Mennonite Church, 1985," calls upo to build upon our heritage. He challenges us to allow it to move us forward in carrying ou mandate which Jesus, the Lord of the church, has granted to us.

The basic features of the Yearbook continue. However, as with each issue, we see reflect the life of the church in a way that is helpful to all our readers. As you page through volume you will note several changes which we think make this a more useful resource for participation and ministry in the life of the church. Changes include the following:

First: By decision of the Mennonite Church General Board, the conference sections h been reorganized to more closely reflect current realities. Only those conferences that ticipate in the activities of the Mennonite Church General Assembly are included in the sec "Conference, District, and Area Directory of Congregations." Those who choose not to ticipate are included in the section "Other Mennonite Church Conferences." Note that ministerial directory for the latter is included at the end of the section. Finally, the official sta tical data about the size of the Mennonite Church and the degree of participation in the grams of Sunday school, etc., are now based on the participating conferences only. change is reflected in the tables of the statistical section.

Second: In the conference section one body has been added—The Greater Los Ang Mennonite Churches (LA). It is a recent organization of the congregations in that metropol area. One body has been dropped. The Eastern Pennsylvania Mennonite Church (EP) chosen to discontinue its listing with us due to its strong sense of being independent and o own.

Third: In the "Directory of Overseas Mennonite Churches" several bodies have been ded—Caribbean Light and Truth, Bolivian Mennonite Church, Mennonite Church-Un Kingdom, Kekchi Mennonite Church, Mennonite Air Missions, Hong Kong, and the Menno Church of Trinidad and Tobago—to reflect current activities and relationships. Also note the church listings in this directory have been streamlined in order to conserve space.

Fourth: In the organizational section, additional and updated features include expanded Regional and Area Church Organizations now listed in the General Board sectio listing of church planting programs in the Mission Board section, and some shifting of deta listings between the Mennonite Central Committee and the Inter-Mennonite Projects sectio

Fifth: In light of the adjustments in the statistical gathering as reported above, the off Mennonite Church membership in North America now stands at 99,605 in 1,072 congregat (9,258 members and 80 congregations in Canada and 90,347 and 987 congregations in United States). Totals for the "Other Mennonite Church Conferences" include 19,406 mem in 360 congregations. (See Table IV). Add the 653 congregations and 34,833 members over (see Table V) and the worldwide total now stands at 134,438 (see Table II). In the broader M nonite context the Mennonite Church (MC) is a significant part of the 339,993 members (see ble VI) who comprise the Mennonite and Brethren in Christ membership in North America the 730,000 members (see Tables VII and VIII) in 144 bodies and 57 countries around the wo

Sixth: Two new tables have been added in the statistical section. The first (Table IX), "M nonite Outreach Overseas, 1984" details the size of personnel and financial commitment w the church has placed behind its outreach efforts overseas. The second (Table XXII), "S mary Comparison, Mennonites 1963 and 1982 and the U.S. Population, 1960 and 1980", in categories, reflects the degree to which the Mennonite population conforms to the gen population of the United States.

Seventh: In the ministerial directory the name of the spouse has been added in orde help readers identify and personalize their contacts with the 3,426 North American minis and their families.

Eighth: Readers may note a change in the layout of the pages of the Mennonite W

The Mennonite Church 1985

By Myron Augsburger

The church is continually being called and created by the risen Christ. As Christ's c ciples we are his body, the covenant community by which he is made known to the world. T is a significant time for the witness of the Mennonite Church.

On January 21, 1985, the Mennonite Church celebrated its 460th anniversary. Fron small prayer meeting in Zurich, Switzerland, January 21, 1525, when a little group certified th faith in Christ by baptism, and commissioned each other to the ministry, this expression of free church has grown to impact the "global village." Given the nickname of "Mennonite dozen years after its founding, the free church under this designation of peaceful evangelic has extended its mission into the larger world. Today, with Mennonite fellowships of discip in 57 countries, we are on the way to sharing the gospel of reconciliation in Christ with peo in every country and culture.

In North America, we now have a membership of 99,605 in 29 district conferences a fellowships made up of 1,072 congregations. While there is considerable diversity across continent we do have a basic unity in our commitment to Jesus as Lord of the church. C rently, in addition to our conference gatherings, our churchwide "Conversations on Faith," a our Hispanic Concilio and Afro-American Mennonite Association, we are working togethe enhance our "Vision for Witness" and our response to the Lord's "Call to Faithful Stewa ship."

A Heritage

A heritage is an example of how the Holy Spirit has worked in the past through peopl faith. Ours is filled with examples of men and women, young and older, black, yellow a white, whose walk with Jesus has been an expression of the new creation by his Spiri righteousness, love, and peace. Not all who have grown up within an ethnic Mennonite orie tion have discovered the essence of this heritage as one in which the Spirit alone transfo lives. Some have copied values expressed in this lifestyle even while not entering fully into Spirit's work. Others have reacted against the lifestyle, for in failing to see its true spirit t have felt bound. Many, however, have found in this heritage symbols that have pointed the the meaning of life in Christ. It is incumbent upon us as members, that when we are ask "What mean ye by these stones?" we are able to communicate the "soul of the symbol."

Enriching our Unique Mission

As a small denomination we are attempting a major mission. For our size, we particip proportionately in a wider spectrum of issues and in more areas of service than most deno nations. Uniquely, we seek to hold an evangelical faith and social action together rather t going the way of one or the other. We profess to be advocates of the Third Way, i.e. the wa the kingdom of Christ, selecting carefully from the other ways in our society, humanism conservatism. We are a people of discipleship, seeking to hold together evangelistic missi a loving nonviolence, a separated life of holiness, and a stewardship of mutual aid. We often confronted and compromised in numerous ways by our society. In answer, I wan present five areas in which we need to seek the enrichment of the church as we conclude 20th century and prepare a new generation of leaders for the church in century 21.

First, our vitality is dependent upon fellowship with the risen Christ. We are not creating church; he is. Jesus calls us to come to him, and in calling us to himself Jesus calls us into owship with all of our brothers and sisters who are also following him. We may have differ- convictions, and differing applications, but our essential unity is in our commitment to ist. The humility to which he calls us will prevent the pride that sets up one's conscience as measuring rod for all others and will enable us to love and enrich one another.

Second, our visibility as a people is conditioned by our fellowship in community. The ial changes accompanying our move from "colony" structures of community life to more en circles of business and professional people calls for a more dynamic sense of com- nity. We can be a unique people so long as our oneness is a covenant relation with Christ, a tionship in which our covenant forms a community of commitment to one another as an ression of belonging to him. All across our denomination we should develop covenant ups, koinonia groups, in which we enrich one another, and hold one another accountable lifestyle of discipleship.

Third, our vision to be the new order that Christ is creating will best be fostered by a owship of interpretation. How we exercise ourselves in the interpretation of the Scripture determine our faithfulness to God and our uniqueness as a people. The maintenance of our ological stance is dependent more upon our hermeneutics than upon our "Swiss-German ure." With the privilege of being multicultural, multiracial, and multinational as a church, will find our unifying stance in the application of the community-hermeneutic to "sola iptura." As we interpret the Bible Christologically, not as a flat book but as a divine revela- finding its full expression in Jesus, we will be able to share the kingdom of Christ in any ure.

Fourth, our effectiveness in evangelism, at home and abroad, calls for total commitment he fellowship of missions. With a heritage in which we were the one group in the Reforma- who took the Great Commission seriously, we must rediscover the priorities of Christ's sion for today. Christ came to seek and to save the lost, he is the Savior of the world, and we called to be his ambassadors and make him known. This is the primary way to overcome materialism that makes us comfortable to be one with the world and the secularism that kes us like the world.

And fifth, our integrity before the Lord who is creating his church calls us to a more effec- relationship with the church universal. No one group has captured the kingdom. We are a all part of his larger church. We are, however, a part of Christ's church, and we have nething to share of what we have learned about his will. The Spirit is at work in our tradition, we can share the life of Christ, the meaning of faith, the strategy of love, the wholeness of ce, and the fellowship of his kingdom of righteousness.

Let us pray for the gifts of discernment, of wisdom, of faith, and of prayer to rest upon our rch. Let us avoid institutionalism by keeping clear that structures serve the church. Let us use to judge one another in separatist fashion. Let us, as the Master demonstrated, see ple rather than seeing lepers, sinners, or Gentiles. Let us extend the ministry of love to se within the community of faith, as well as to those about us in the world. Let us support mission of this people, not negating others, and with this God-given heritage, let us not fail Holy Spirit in what he is seeking to do through us.

As General Assembly meets, at Ames, Iowa, August 9-14, with the theme "To Know Christ Serve," we will gather to learn from the Master. Jesus said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me" (Matthew 25:40). Again, ist is not ashamed to call us his brothers and sisters, and in the midst of the congregation sings the praise of the Father. Let us join in the hallelujahs of praise to God. ☐

The Martyrs Mirror, 1685-1985

By Carolyn C. Wenger

Nineteen hundred and eighty-five marks the three-hundredth anniversary of an elaborately illustrated edition of a classic, monumental work of Mennonite faith and history. In 1685 the Dutch Mennonites published the second European version of the Martyrs Mirror. This book, in varied editions across the centuries, has achieved recognition and use by the Mennonite-related church groups, as well as by others.

The compiler, Thieleman Jansz. van Braght, a Dordrecht Mennonite minister, completed the first edition in 1660, four years before his death. His goal was to establish the fact that believer's baptism and nonresistance had been maintained by various persecuted sects since the apostolic age. Anabaptists saw themselves as heirs of the New Testament martyr tradition. They had collected many martyr stories from the past. Van Braght wanted readers to maintain their faith by similar courage. He recorded only those martyrdoms which resulted from adherence to the cause of Christ. The full title of the book reads:

> The Bloody Drama of Anabaptist and Nonresistant Christians who because of their Witness to Jesus Christ their Savior suffered and have been killed from the days of the early church till the most recent times. Including a description of baptism and other aspects of worship as they practice it. Consisting of two volumes, which are an enlargement of the previous Martyrs Mirrors and other reliable chronicles, memories, witnesses, etc.

The Anabaptists believed that suffering for Christ was a natural continuation of the life-death struggle between the carnal world and spiritual power. Christ expected his followers to take up the cross and become partakers, not only beneficiaries, of his suffering. T
Anabaptist believer first received the spirit
Christ during regeneration, second by wa

The Anabaptists acted aggressively ir

The Publication History of the Martyrs Mi

The Martyrs Mirror has its roots in the ropean martyr books of Germany, France, and after 1552. By 1562 a Dutch martyr /book, Sacrifice unto the Lord, appeared biographical sketches of a number of / Mennonite martyrs. Hymns describing suffering, piety, manner of life, and date eath were also included. The title page e no hint of the printer or place of publica- To publish such a book was punishable re. Martyr books were frequently burned g with their owners. In 1631 Hans de Ries rged and reprinted this collection.

nally in 1660 Thieleman J. van Braght in a)-page volume presented the history of tyrdom from Christ's time to the end of Middle Ages and the fate of the baptists from their beginning to 1660. He rspersed treatises; discussions of the de, meaning, and value of baptism; essions of faith; farewell and testimonial rs; hymns; and discussions of doctrinal ects such as the swearing of oaths, the e of secular authorities, Christian separa- from the world, repentance, resurrection, rmation, signs of the times, the last judg- t, and foot washing. Van Braght listed the books he had consulted in his compila- and writing. Except for his contention the Mennonites descended from the densians, van Braght is considered an ac- te historian for his day.

1685 a second edition appeard, often nd in two volumes, including a frontispiece and 104 engravings etched in copper by Jan Luyken (1649-1712), a famous Dutch Mennonite artist. Forty-nine engravings appear in part 1 showing the martyrs prior to the Reformation, and fifty-four in part 2, devoted to the Anabaptist martyrs. In 1722 an Amsterdam abridgement updated the story to 1671. In 1984 the Dutch Mennonites published a facsimile of the 1660 edition.

The Ephrata, Pennsylvania, edition, which appeared six years prior to the French and Indian War, is the largest book printed in the colonies prior to the American Revolution. It was translated from the Dutch and published over a six-year period at the Ephrata Cloister of the Seventh-Day Baptists. All English editions after 1886 used Sohm's translation. In 1975, Jan Luyken's Martyrs Mirror engravings were reproduced in book form under the title The Drama of the Martyrs (Lancaster, Pa.: Mennonite Historical Associates, 1975) and were incorporated into later editions of Martyrs Mirror, beginning in 1977. Also in 1977, through the efforts of Old Order Mennonite historian Amos B. Hoover of Denver, Pennsylvania, seven of Luyken's original copper plates, thought to have been destroyed during World War II, were located in Europe, purchased, and are now in Mennonite, Church of the Brethren, or private libraries in the United States. Today the Martyrs Mirror is used in both German and English editions.

Impact of the Martyrs Mirror Then and Today

In times of wartime, poverty, and persecution the Martyrs Mirror has gained a strong foothold on the Mennonite consciousness. Frequent allusions to or quotations from Martyrs Mirror still occur in Amish and Old Order Mennonite circles, where the volume commonly appears in every home. But to many Mennonites it is almost unknown—except for students of Mennonite history. Few heirs of this tradition have experienced martyrdom. Many have not read of this legacy even though they may have thanked God for being allowed to worship "unmolested and undisturbed."

The Mennonites who migrated from Europe to America or to Prussia centuries ago were fleeing from involvement in worldly affairs. They wanted to maintain "the simple and nonresistant faith of Christ." Yet they were forced to survive emigration, adjustment to new locations, extra taxation, and waves of Christian revivals and pietistic movements. Revolutions speeded the process of acculturation. Influences from inside and outside the Mennonite family brought significant changes. Some of these strengthened, but others diluted, the original Anabaptist visio for a fellowship responsible to each other ar to Christ. In new homelands Mennonite se tlers eventually found themselves fully i volved in the affairs of the world.

Were van Braght writing this preface toda would he warn of the incredible dangers affluence to our spiritual lives even thou we attempt to identify with the poor a persecuted? Greater danger, he wrote, exis now where life is "better, quieter and mo comfortable" than "in the time of our fathe who suffered for the testimony of the Lor He warned of allowing zeal to be "lulled into careless sleep" and of having too much ti for life's "good things"—"large, expensi and ornamented houses," "embellish pleasure-grounds," clothes of "uncomm colors or of strange fashions . . . changea as the moon," and "great dinners, lavi banquets and wedding-feasts . . . squa dered and consumed without the lea necessity." If we are not sure of our spirit heritage, he concluded, our witness will la clarity and effectiveness.

he Anabaptists did not compartmentalize life into the spiritual, social, and political spheres. They had only one life. They gave all of it for a total cause—the restoration and redemption of all aspects of human life. A carnal life held no promise of salvation for them. The early Christian and Anabaptist martyrs, undefeated and patient to the end, deserve our imitation and respect. The revival of bold faith and the courage of discipleship, regardless of price, can increase only as we practice our present insights of what the Lord wills for us to do. □

Geographical Directory of Congregations

This directory lists Mennonite Church congregations according to the country, state/province, and city in which they are located. Within each country (Canada, United States, and others), congregations are listed alphabetically by state/province and city. This directory includes all the Mennonite Church congregations which are listed in the "Conference, District and Area Directory of Congregations" and the "Other Mennonite Church Conferences." Most of these congregations are members of district conferences; however, some ("Unaffiliated Mennonite Congregations") are not related to any district or conference. Most participate and send delegates to the General Assembly; however, some choose not to participate in the programs of the General Assembly.

In addition, the directory includes all congregations affiliated with the Brethren in Christ, General Conference Mennonite, Mennonite Brethren, Evangelical Mennonite Brethren, Evangelical Mennonite Church, Evangelical Mennonite Conference of Canada, and the Evangelical Mennonite Mission Conference of Canada churches. These are integrated with the Mennonite Church congregations. Information listed about these congregations includes location, name and affiliation (BIC—Brethren in Christ, EMB—Evangelical Mennonite Brethren Conference, EMC—Evangelical Mennonite Church, EMCC—Evangelical Mennonite Conference of Canada, EMMC—Evangelical Mennonite Mission Conference of Canada, GC—General Conference Mennonite and MB—Mennonite Brethren). Information regarding conference organizations, bishops/overseers, and congregations is found in the "Conference, District and Area Directory of Congregations" and "Other Mennonite Church Conferences" sections of this volume.

The purpose of this directory is to provide information regarding the location of the meetinghouse. It is designed to assist readers in their efforts to find or contact the congregation at its meetinghouse. Note that the location of the meetinghouse is not a mailing address. All mail should be directed to the address listed under the congregation in the "Conference, District and Area Directory of Congregations" and "Other Mennonite Church Conferences." Persons desiring to get in touch with the pastor or contact person of a congregation should follow the information provided in these same directories. Effort was made to secure complete and accurate information about each congregation listed. If there are errors and/or missing data please provide full information to the Editor, Mennonite Yearbook, 616 Walnut Ave., Scottdale, PA 15683. Church Communities

Church communities is a broad designation for active Anabaptist-Mennonite Church communities who relate to the Mennonite Church. This list was compiled in consultation with Keith Harder, Fellowship of Hope, 414 W. Wolf, Elkhart, IN 46515 (219-294-1416). Communities listed relate in a variety of ways to the Mennonite Church, as well as other churches and movements. Most communities follow a multiple-shared pattern of leadership.

Directory of Other Mennonite Church Conferences

Not Related to Mennonite Church General Assembly

This directory lists Mennonite Church conferences alphabetically by name of conference, area, or district. Within each one, congregations are listed alphabetically by name of congregation. Conferences and districts in this directory do not participate in nor send delegates to the Mennonite Church General Assembly.

The purpose of this directory is to provide all the information necessary to contact a given congregation by mail or phone without consulting other sections of the Yearbook. The mailing address and telephone number listed is the one designated by the congregation as their official contact. This may be the pastor's office, residence, meetinghouse, or another location or person.

The person designated as the primary contact is listed by name and carries the ministerial office code number 1. Other persons who carry active responsibility in the congregation carry the ministerial office code number 2. Ordained persons who carry district, or conference, responsibilities (number 5); those who are retired (3); those who are without congregational responsibility (4); chaplains (6); those serving as active missionaries overseas (7); and those serving as staff members of a church-sponsored-or-related board, agency, or program (8) are listed in the "Ministerial Directory" only. The ministerial directory is found at the end of this section of the yearbook.

Information regarding the meetinghouse (location, telephone, etc.) is provided in the "Geographical Directory of Congregations" section found earlier in this volume. (See the first page of the "Other Mennonite Church Conferences Ministerial Directory" for an explanation of the conference codes used in this directory.) An example of a complete congregational listing in this directory is as follows:

Directory of Overseas Mennonite Churches

(Related to the Mennonite Church)

This directory lists those overseas Mennonite churches which emerged out of the mission efforts conducted by the Conservative, Eastern, and Mennonite Board of Missions as well as other conference and independent mission boards and commissions. Overseas Mennonite churches, though independent, maintain continuing fraternal ties to the Mennonite Church in North America. Church bodies are listed alphabetically by name of country. Included in this listing is the leadership and statistical information for each body. Ministerial statistics are summarized in the Mennonite Church Ministerial Directory later in this volume. Detailed information regarding congregations and ministers may be secured from the church office or secretary. In addition, the fraternal mission board can be of assistance in gathering this information.

Brunk II, R 8, Bx 47, Harrisonburg, VA 22801; Vice-President: Walter Beachy, 809 Lombard Rd., Plain City, OH 43064 (614-857-1007); Secretary-Treasurer: Sanford G. The Fellowship is a coalition of like-minded Mennonites whose concerns focus upon the basic biblical tenets of faith which have been the foundations of the sector of the Reformation of the sixteenth century known as the Anbaptist Movement, with special interest in that segment of Anabaptistm called Mennonite. The Fellowsip was formed because certain of those basic biblical tenets of faith long held as foundational more currently are being questioned, modified, or negated, and, because by general acknowledgment, the Mennonite Church membership contains a wide range of conservative elements on the one hand and liberal elements on the other, with the latter seemingly gaining the ascendency, and, because at issue is the control of thought through the schools and through the publication of literature, and, because in the present confusion of ideas there is need for a fundamental, distinctive, proportional, and consistent articulation of faith.

Purpose and function: MCC is the cooperative relief and servi agency of 17 North American Mennonite and Brethren in Chr churches and conferences. Central for Mennonites is Christ's call f Christians to reflect the compassion of Jesus, teach the good ne to the poor, proclaim liberty for the captives and recovery of sight f the blind, and set at liberty those who are oppressed. Commun development, peacemaking, and material aid are carried on "in t name of Christ" in response to Christ's command to teach all n tions the way of discipleship, love and peace.
